U.S. Term Limits Praises Bryan Peeples for Signing Term Limits Pledge

Washington, D.C. – U.S. Term Limits (USTL), the leader in the national movement to limit terms for elected officials, today praised Alabama U.S. Senate candidate Bryan Peeples for signing its congressional term limits pledge.

In November of 2016, U.S. Term Limits had over 50 pledge signers in Congress.

USTL President Philip Blumel commented on Peeples' pledge, saying, "Bryan Peeples's commitment to returning to citizen government in Washington, D.C. is a beacon that should be followed by candidates across the nation."

The U.S. Term Limits Amendment Pledge is provided to every announced candidate for federal office. It reads, "I pledge that as a member of Congress I will cosponsor and vote for the U.S. Term Limits amendment of three (3) House terms and two (2) Senate terms and no longer limit."

The U.S. Term Limits Constitutional Amendment has been introduced in both the U.S. Senate by Senator Ted Cruz (R-TX) and the House of Representatives by Representative Ron De Santis (R-FL).

Blumel noted, "Congress has forgotten they are accountable to the people. The people are tired of Congress forgetting that being in office is supposed to be a service to your country. It is not supposed to be a career where they put their own self-interest before the needs of the country."

According to the last nationwide poll on term limits conducted by Gallup, the issue enjoys wide bi-partisan support. The poll showed that 75% of Americans support congressional term limits.

Gallup's analysis states, "Republicans and independents are slightly more likely than Democrats to favor term limits; nevertheless, the vast majority of all party groups agree on the issue. Further, Gallup finds no generational differences in support for the proposal."

Blumel concluded, "Fortunately, with candidates like Bryan Peeples emerging, and a building grassroots campaign increasing pressure, we are going to reach our goal of the passage of a term limits amendment."

The term limits amendment bills would require a two-thirds majority in the House and Senate, and ratification by 38 states in order to become part of the constitution.
